

Major Lisa Kempker is an Air Force Financial Management Assignment Officer at Air Force Personnel Center, Joint Base San Antonio-Randolph, Texas. In this position, she manages 650 Air Force financial management officers and delivers customer-focused support solutions to commanders, officers and their families. Prior to assuming her current position, Major Kempker was the Deputy Chief, Budget Execution Branch, Budget Operations and Integration Directorate, Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Air Force (Budget), Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Air Force, Financial Management and Comptroller, in the Pentagon. In this position, Major Kempker managed the 47 billion dollar Air Force Operations and Maintenance Appropriation checkbook and delivered strategic decision support, analysis and recommendations to Air Force senior leaders on budget and financial issues. Her background includes various duties in the Financial Management career field at the squadron and Major Command levels. In addition, she completed an Education with Industry assignment, acquiring knowledge of leadership roles in financial planning and decision support roles at United Services Automobile Association (USAA). Major Kempker completed two deployments, one in support of Operation ENDURING FREEDOM in 2012 and one in support of Operation INHERENT RESOLVE in 2015.